Information about the class:

Line Dancing is a mix of dance styles ranging from Waltz and Cha Cha to Irish Dancing. We use a variety of music to accompany these styles, such as Shania Twain and Keith Urban (country) to Rebecca Ferguson and Meghan Trainor (pop) - with everything in between. No partner needed. Ticket holders for either class are welcome to stay/warm-up in either class (space permitting).

Aims and objectives:

The aims and objectives of this class are to teach people how to line dance but in a fun and easy way. This will be achieved through explaining various steps then putting them into dance choreography routines ranging from absolute beginner to low intermediate level. It is hoped to then give dancers the opportunity to partake in dance socials (where we meet dancers from other classes) and the chance to take medal examinations should they wish to do so.

Materials or clothing required and any additional costs:

Please wear any comfortable clothes eg t-shirt and jeans or leggings. The best footwear would be trainers but if you don't have these any comfortable, non-slip shoes will be fine – no heels.

Tutor biography:

Julie's passion is dance. She has been line dancing for 18 years, the last 14 of these with Dancenergy dance school. She has competed in competitions worldwide, eventually reaching World Championship level. However, eight years ago she decided to give this up so she could teach and share this fun form of dance. Her aim is for dancers to have a fun, relaxed class.
